Landmark Welcomes Summer Interns

COTTAGE GROVE, WI, May 30, 2019 – Landmark Services Cooperative (LSC) is excited to welcome eight summer interns. The student interns started on Monday, May 20 and will have assorted roles in several divisions throughout LSC's trade territory.

During the internship program the students will learn and practice skills in their desired areas of interest that will benefit them in their future careers. "We hope all of our interns gain general business acumen, a better understanding of agriculture, improve communication skills, and the confidence to follow their passions," explains Brian Musser, talent acquisition partner of LSC.

Along with the internship experience, students are provided with several benefits that include a laptop for summer use, option to earn university credit, and networking opportunities with other employees and customers.

Jenna Keiser will serve as an animal nutrition intern, Jennifer Lintner will serve as an agronomy intern, Jordan Roberts will serve as a HR intern, Sammy Streich will serve as a grain/agronomy intern, Colleen Toberman will serve as a grain intern, Shelby Veum will serve as a marketing and communications intern, Jake Wagner will serve as an agronomy intern, and David Wolter will serve as an IT intern.

"I'm looking forward to gaining real world experience and the opportunity to network with professionals," says Jenna Keiser, animal nutrition intern. "I hope to get as much knowledge about the feed and nutrition industry as I can."

During the internship, students can spend a day or two in another department, getting a taste of the different job opportunities throughout LSC. "We connect all interns with a mentor outside their department to help with making connections and overall career advice," says Musser. He continues, "Ideally, the internship is the start of a long, successful career with Landmark."

All internship opportunities are posted around the beginning of the year at <https://landmark.coop/careers/>.
